YOU ARE PAYING FOR SOMETHING THAT YOU ARE NOT RECEIVING

Has Grimsby a Medical Officer of Health?

Has West Lincoln a Medical Officer of Health?

I grant you that we are paying for one, but insofar as actual performance of duty is concerned, have we one?

The people of Lincoln are supposed to have a health unit known as the Lincoln County Health Unit. A man named Dr. Currie is supposed to be the Medical Officer of Health.

I am not going to say that this Dr. Currie is not on his job so far as St. Catharines and the eastern portion of the county is concerned, but I am going to say, and very definitely, that he is not on his job so far as West Lincoln is concerned.

It is almost two years now since this health unit came into being. For a portion of that time West Lincoln received good service while Dr. James M. Mather was the assistant M.O.H. The people knew to whom to go with their troubles and they received relief. Dr. Mather is now the M.O.H. of Halton County. Since he left our midst we have had no service.

There is hardly a day passes that The Independent and Mayor Harry Bull do not have inquiries regarding the M.O.H. and the unit. All we can tell the people is to go to the County Buildings in St. Catharines. Whether they go or not I cannot tell.

Mayor Harry Bull informs me that he has never met the M.O.H. for Lincoln. Would not know him if he bumped into him on the street. The same goes for the Editor of The Independent. I understand that another St. Catharines medico has been appointed in the stead of Dr. Mather. If he knows where West Lincoln and the Town of Grimsby are located then none of the town officials know anything it.

Grimsby to accept a position in Barrie the people did get some service and they knew where to locate Mr. Sharpe. Is there a Sanitary Inspector in West Lincoln at the present time? I understand that there is a man the name of Berry, Wherry, or some such name residing on Robinson street south who is a Sanitary Inspector connected with the Lincoln unit, but I do not know this from my own knowledge or from any authentic source. If such an inspector does exist he is keeping the fact to himself, he is certainly not publicizing it.

At the time that this health unit was organized, Dr. Currie was M.O.H. of the City of St. Catharines at a salary of $5,000 a year. As the M.O.H. of the joint health unit he was given a salary of $7,000 a year, which amount is paid 50 per cent by each municipality. In other words St. Catharines now get their M.O.H. for $3,500 a year instead of $5,000 and West Lincoln gets nothing but we still are paying our share of that other $3,500, along with a lot of other expenses.

I have been unable to find in the "book of Proceedings" of Lincoln County Council what this health unit cost the county last year, but I believe it was plenty. But no matter what it cost West Lincoln received nothing in return for the amount of money that the taxpayers doled out to support it.

Beamsville Village Council have had the question discussed in open meeting and they are taking steps to find out just what is what. Every other council in West Lincoln should do the same thing. To me the ratepayers of West Lincoln are being the shot for St. Catharines and the eastern part of the county. Such a situation as this cannot go on.

Grimsby Town Council would be well advised to notify the county officials that they will not pay any more money towards the support of Dr. Currie and the supposed-to-be Lincoln Health Unit, and go back to their old system of having their own M.O.H. and Sanitary Inspector.

This is just another case people of West Lincoln and Grimsby in particular, being a milch cow for the rest of the county.

WAS ROMANTIC LITTLE VILLAGE

Grimsby in 1855 Was A Watery Place For Great Western Railway Engines—Too Bad That The Traveller Did Not Stick To Water, Too—Hamilton Had A Population Of 20,000—St. Catharines Had Made Great Strides.

Note: The following is taken from a bound volume (Vol. XXV, 1855-56) of Western Literary Messenger, published in Buffalo, N.Y., which describes itself on the flyleaf as a Family Magazine of Literature, Science, Art, Morality and General Intelligence.

At the time Editor J. Clement took a holiday jaunt through the Fruit Belt and printed in his magazine the Diary from which we quote, the accomplished and highly esteemed Lord Dufferin was Governor of Canada; Sir Allan McNab, leader of the last remnant of the Family Compact group, was serving his last year as prime minister of Upper Canada; a rash of railway building had broken out all over Canada and the United States, and the Canadian political kettle was seething with the uneasy brew which would, twelve years later, boil down to Confederation. Britain was waging war against Russia in the Crimea; Queen Victoria was 36 years old, and had been on the throne for eighteen difficult years. Franklin Pierce was President of the United States, where events were rapidly leading up to the Civil War of 1861-65. In spite of the sinister political state of the world, trade and commerce were at boom height and prosperity was in every man's hand.—Hollis.

November 2nd, 1855—Left St. Catharines, Canada West, early this morning, after a pleasant day's sojourn there. Eleven years and a half ago, when we first visited the place, it was a small and filthy village: now it has six or seven

NEW GRANDSTAND FOR BASEBALL FOLLOWERS

Lions Club Will Erect Structure On Public School Grounds—Will Be 22x60 Feet.

The Civic Improvement Committee of the Grimsby Lions Club have selected a site and the final design for the proposed grandstand, and construction of this structure will commence immediately, so stated Earl J. Marsh, Chairman of the Committee, on Monday afternoon.

The structure will seat approximately four hundred persons, and will be of wooden construction, 22 by 60 feet. It will be erected on the western limits of the Public School yard, running parallel with the third base line, some thirty feet back from the ball diamond.

Over a period of years, various proposals have been submitted to the Civic Improvement Committee, and some of these have been the boulevard in front of the Public School, and the development of the scenic path leading to the peak of the mountain that guards this town of Grimsby.

However, it has been the definite feelings of the Club that something should be done, and so after viewing many proposals, the grand

FINE BUSINESSMAN CALLED TO HIS MAKER

William Ralph Boehm Passed Quietly Away On Wednesday Night Last—Had Been A District Resident 29 Years.

Wm. Ralph Boehm, an outstanding citizen of Grimsby has passed to his last reward, and the town mourns the loss of a good man, a man who has in twenty-nine years conducted a brilliant business life, as well as establishing himself as a most strenuous worker in the service club of which he was a member, and also in his church, where his efforts have been of considerable magnitude.

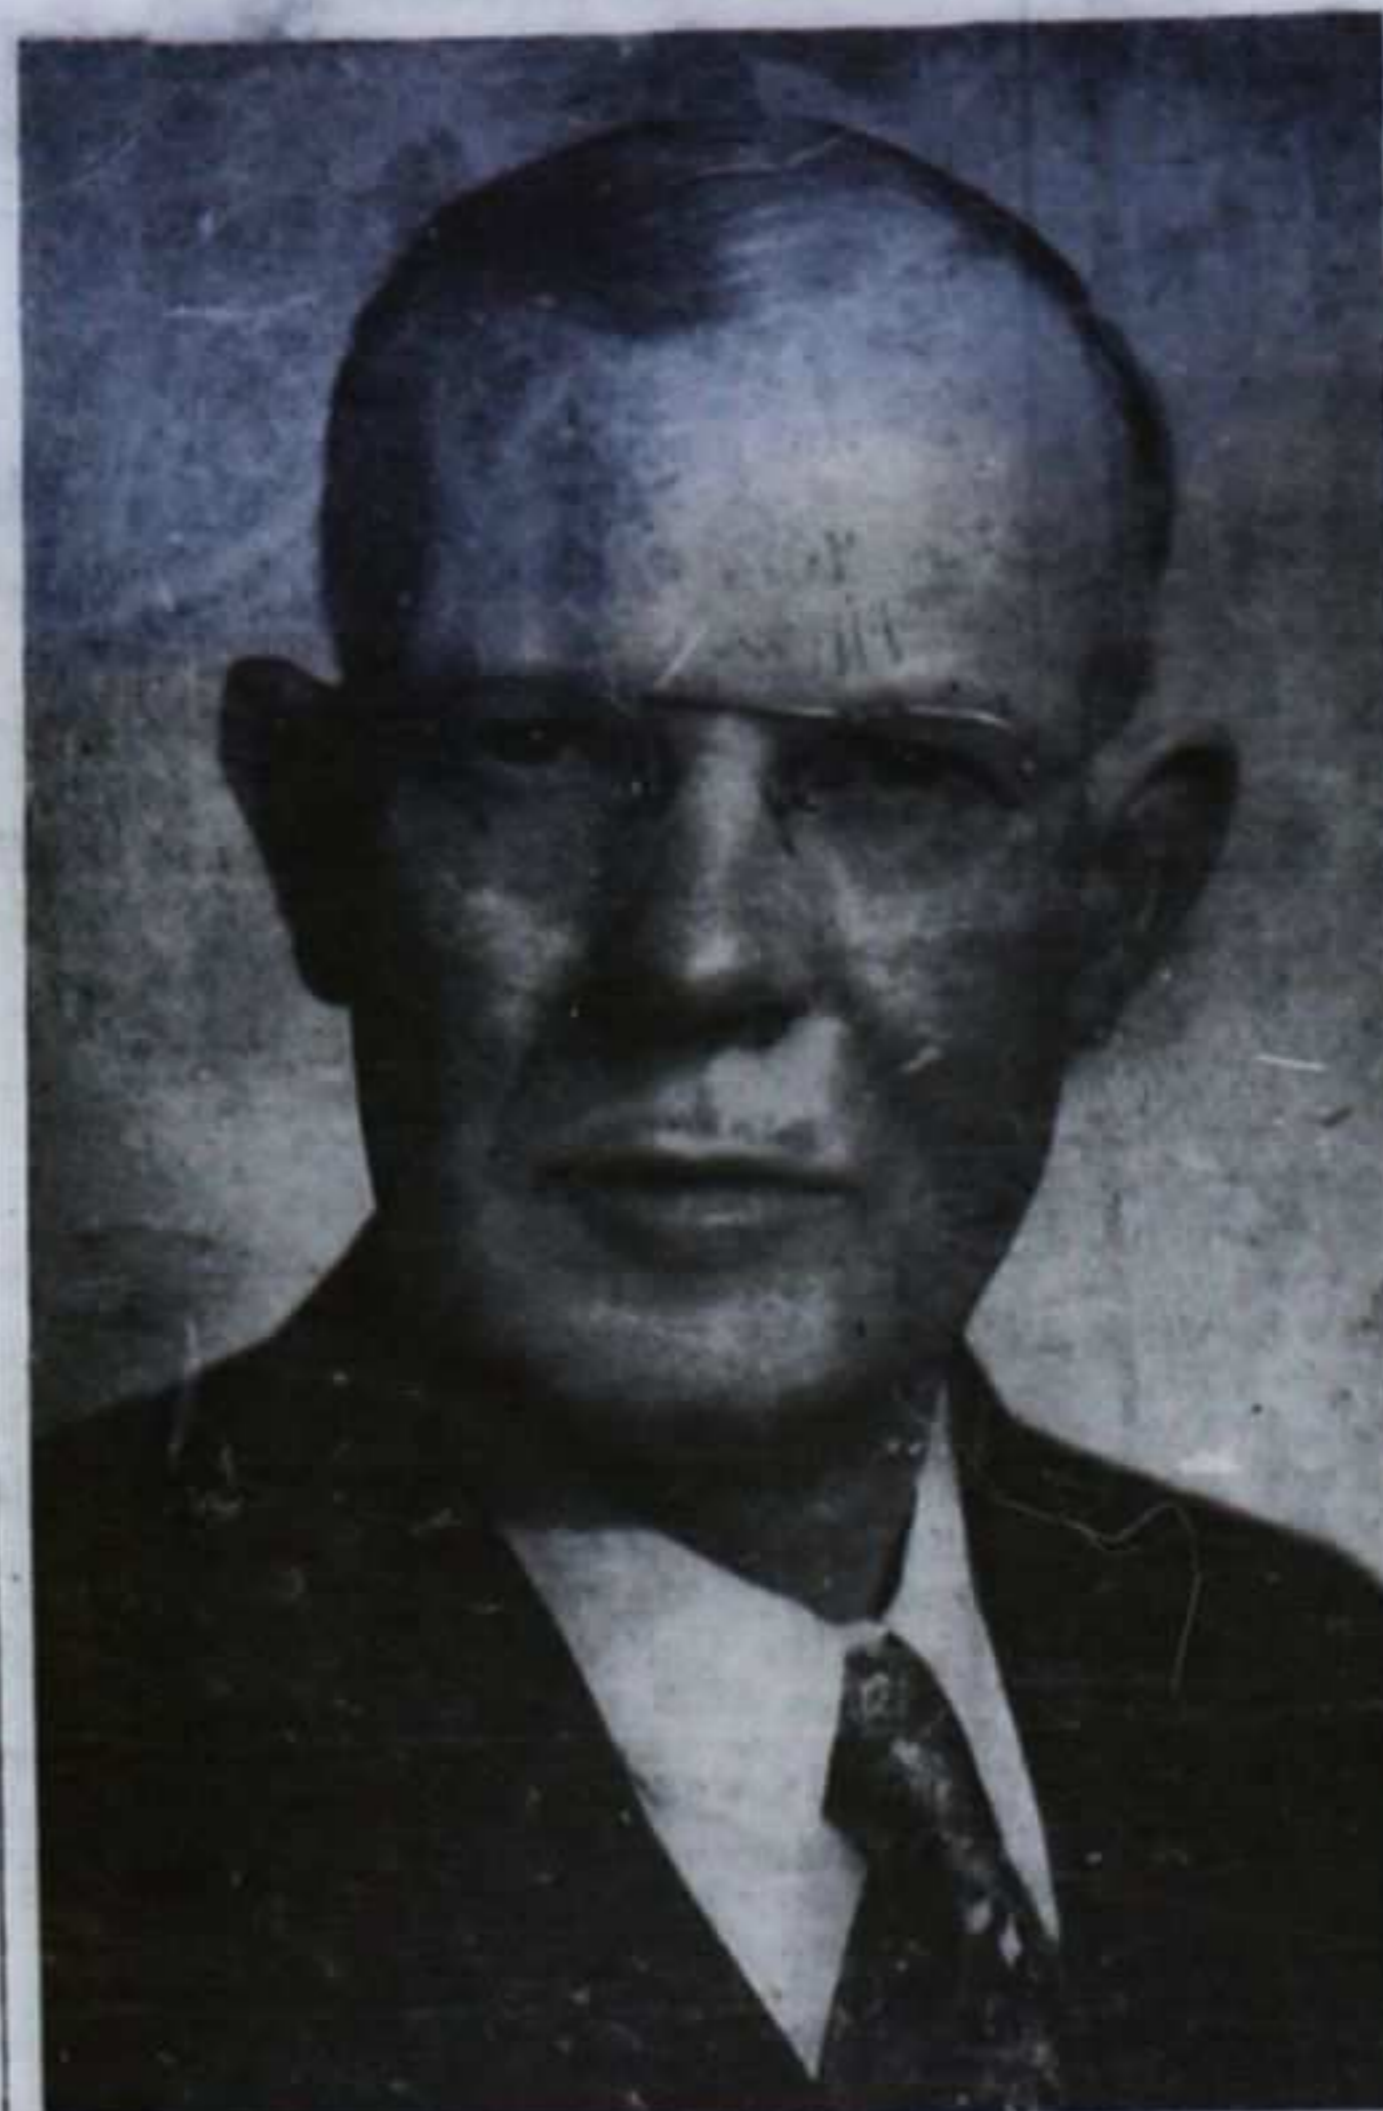

Ralph Boehm passed away quietly at his Livingston Avenue residence last Wednesday night, following a lingering illness, thus ending a life that began in 1888 in the little village of Elora.

Coming to Grimsby twenty-nine years ago, deceased was connected with E. D. Smith and Sons for thirteen years, and after his cap

155 Cubic Yards Of Concrete And 11½ Tons Of Reinforced Steel Used In Main Digestion Tank—Tanks Will Be Heated By Using The Sewage Gases—18 Men Employed.

Work is progressing favourably on the sewage disposal plant, and improved weather conditions will assist greatly in bringing completion of the project to a conclusion early this summer.

The Ontario Construction Company has eighteen men working on three of the four units to be constructed, and it is expected that the huge digestion tank will be completed this week, except for the installation of piping, which, of course, will be done when all units are constructed.

Over 155 cubic yards of concrete and eleven and a half tons of reinforcing steel have gone into the construction of the digestion tank. The walls are fifteen inches thick at the bottom, and twelve at the top, the tank is twenty-five feet high in the centre, and is thirty feet in diameter, this being the inside dimensions.

Also under construction, and making rapid progress is the control building and the primary tank. Much of the concrete has been poured for these two units, and only the inlet structure has not been started to any great extent.

An interesting feature of the new sewage disposal plant will be the using of sewer gases for heating purposes. The actual process is somewhat technical, but we were informed that sewer gases are used not only to heat the control room, but also to heat the pipes in the digestion tank to a proper degree, necessary for the functioning of the tank. GRIMSBY BOY TAKING A SCIENTIFIC COURSE

Garth B. Bedford Has Enrolled As A Student In Aviation Maintenance Engineering At American College.

Garth B. Bedford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Bedford, Nelles Side Road, Grimsby, has been accepted as a student at St. Louis University's Parks College of Aeronautical Technology after passing a comprehensive entrance examination by the Board of Admissions. He is preparing for a Bachelor of Science degree in Aviation Maintenance Engineering at Parks, the oldest Federally approved aviation school in the United States.

Bedford's class came to Parks from 19 states, two Canadian provinces and Puerto Rico. He is a 1947 graduate of Grimsby high school. Edward H. Barker, registrar of the college, and Mae Weir, chief meteorologist at Parks, are both natives of Canada. Parks has always had a dozen or more students from Canada.

IN THE DAYS WHEN THE THREE "R'S" WAS HIGHER EDUCATION

Take a look at the dresses on the little girls and you will see that the "New Look" is not new. This picture was at to The Independent by an old Grimsby boy now residing in Niagara Falls. The boys the girls in this photo are now scattered all over the universe. Can you tell us who they are? When this picture was taken, and where? We will tell you next week.

EDITOR'S DESK TAKES ON THAT "NEW LOOK"

Councillor Sam Bartlett Responsible For Brightening Up The Sanctum Sanctorum—Has An Artistic Hobby.

A gleaming, solid walnut receptacle to-day rests on the editor's desk, looking most radiant amongst the dust accumulated through the years. Like a puritan it rests along side of the inevitable scissors and paste pot, reams of copy paper, and other assorted equipment that covers the tear-stained desk of ye editor.

The question has arisen as to what to call this newly acquired "thing." We have a yet not decided to call it, and although its main purpose in life seems to be to hold paper clips, we cannot force ourselves to call it a paper-clip bowl.

It all came about when Councillor Sam Bartlett dashed into the office not very long ago, and with utter disgust noted the little cardboard box top that contained the paper clips. Now it appears that Sam Bartlett is one of those fellows who does wood-working for a hobby, and if this "article" is a sample of his work, then we can consider the Councillor a real expert, and cannot help but wonder why he is wasting his time sitting on North Grimsby Council. However, his happy facility of being a real fine Councillor as well as a

MANY TONS OF ROCK USED AT PUMP HOUSE

Will Form Rock Wave Breaker 20 Feet Out In Lake From Shore Line.

Town officials are really making sure that pump house is going to be safe from the driving waters of Lake Ontario. Although no actual figures are available, on the tonnage of rock that has been placed back and front of the steel piling that fronts the pump house, the figure now would read in the thousands of tons.

James Beamer has been hauling huge quarry rock from the Beamsville quarry, some weighing as high as seven ton, and this rock is at present being moved into place by means of a hoist, which has been brought to the scene. Work is at present concentrated on the east side of the building and pier. This is the side that north-east storms drive waves with terrific force into the inlet that houses the pump house.

Mayor Bull said that his idea of placing an additional quantity of rock out in the lake, some fifteen or twenty feet from the shoreline, has been abandoned, at least until the present wall is tested. Mayor Bull stated that it was his contention that two such walls of rock would break the driving waves, and the water could escape only through the channel between the two outer barriers. The possibility that sand and gravel would then be

MISSING MAN FOUND IN THE GRAND RIVER

Gordon Philp's Body Discovered On Sunday Morning—Well Known Farmer And Cattle Buyer.

The body of Gordon R. Philp, 59-year-old farmer and cattle trader, who was missing from his Clinton Township home since a week ago Tuesday morning, was found in the Grand River near Cayuga shortly before noon on Sunday. It was recovered by William "Red" Hill, Niagara Falls, who, together with several provincial police officers, assisted some 50 Beamsville men in the search.

Provincial police commenced dragging operations on Saturday shortly after Mr. Philp's car was found along the south river road five and one-half miles east of Cayuga. His hat was also found on the river bank, weighted down, police said, by a heavy stone.

The Beamsville men took three boats with outboard motors to the scene early Sunday morning, and the police secured the assistance of Red Hill with his special grappling equipment. They had only dragged for a couple of hours when Hill's equipment recovered the body.

Dr. F. A. Vokes, coroner of Cayuga, after examining the body at the scene, said death was caused by drowning and there was definitely no evidence of foul play. Mr. Philp's wallet and other belongings were found in his pockets. No in

THE MARBLE IS SICK

We have been trying desperately to trace the decline and fall of the marble.

The marble is not well. It has lost its personality. It is round, respectable and pale.

Worse, according to carefully conducted investigations, it is now made only of glass.

Its perfection is demoralizing; down with the modern marble!

We remember not so far back when marbles were of vigorous independence and makeshift technique. Clay marbles were in every colour of the rainbow, with shades of red and green and yellow worked on by dirt and the elements until they could defy a Persian dye. They bulged a bit and had odd habits on the runways, but they were real marbles. If the war has caused a clay shortage, then that is the only excuse for their demise.

Nor is that all.

Where now is the agate, or the smoky? These, we remember, were mined in South Africa, put over teakwood fires, polished with gold, cooled off and exported to North America to exchange for hundreds of clay marbles or cigarette cards, depending on the contest. We no longer see them.

And what of the great crystal alley with its totem-pole element in the centre, largely made up of rubies and gems of like quality cut to perfection in South Africa?

Gone... done in by the modern malaise of standardization; the heavy hand of uniformity.

Marbles are no longer what they were.

We are living in a glassy age, with glassy marbles; pale and perfect.—Hamilton Spectator.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO ONTARIO'S APPLE INDUSTRY

(London Free Press)

Time and again—and always with the voice of experience and from personal inclination—we have expressed the opinion that there is no apple in Canada to equal the crisp, crimson Northern Spy from Georgian Bay or up the Bruce. As for the gorgeous-looking, skillfully packed apple from British Columbia it is a flagrant deceit. Beneath its silky, unblemished skin there is neither the flavor nor texture of any of the better kinds of Ontario apples.

The question of apples arose on reading how the astute member of Parliament for New Westminster, B.C., had arranged to have one solitary B.C. apple placed on the desk of every member of the House—a slick piece of advertising if we may say so. Why did no member from Southwestern Ontario think of such a thing before this? Why do we have to leave the initiative and salesmanship to the gentleman from the coast?

Seriously, what is wrong with our apple industry in Ontario? Years ago we had a sufficiency of apples—Northern Spies, Russets, Greenings and Baldwins. We had Snows and McIntosh Reds and Astrakhans and Harvest apples and so on, and they were cheap enough that we could eat them in quantity for the good of our health and the satisfaction of our palate. But try to get them now, or consider the price you have to pay for one single Spy in February. Oranges are sold here cheaper than Ontario-Grown apples.

Whether it be an increase in fungus diseases, or in insect pests, or in the cost of spraying and the price of labor, the fact is that the people of Southwestern Ontario are not getting Ontario apples. Possibly we need something similar to the great co-operative organizations which the British Columbian growers have developed. Whatever the cause of the scarcity of this marvellous fruit, the people are the sufferers. So, indeed are the orchardists if they only knew it. We would like to see an apple convention called in this part of the country in which experienced growers would exchange views, and tell us what has happened to this Ontario industry.

PEAK BIBLE DISTRIBUTION

In fundamental rebuilding of war-torn nations, the American Bible Society is doing invaluable service. Last year the Society distributed abroad 504,620 Bibles, 1,873,065 Testaments, and 2,912,071 portions of the Scriptures. In the United States its distribution reached 4,020,633 volumes.

It is only through a practical realization of the presence and power of God as the universal Father and man as His beloved son that this world is ever going to achieve permanent peace. In helping to attain that realization the Bible has its indispensable place.

Though the American Bible Society put into circulation last year over 9,000,000 copies of the Word of God, this year it plans a much larger outgiving. It aims to meet definite appeals for the Scriptures from 15 nations which it does not normally serve, besides enlarging its usual work.

For overseas, the Society has scheduled a $2,500,000 distribution program. This is in addition to its regular budget, which has climbed to $1,796,496, its highest figure. Altogether the Society, which is seeking 500,000 new members, has undertaken a far greater program of help to man than it has ever before dared in its 132 years. Never was there a greater need for the Bible.—Christian Science Monitor.

HOME KEEPING A FINE ART

The modern housewife is likely to realize that the maintenance of a home is a good deal more than the merely manual tasks that are performed. It involves the idea of producing a pleasant and home-like atmosphere, in which the whole family find rest and peace.

There is also the idea of the friendly atmosphere, in which those who come to the home are welcomed and enjoy its life.

The provision of attractive and nourishing meals is to be considered a fine art, and it makes a great contribution to the health and welfare of a family. Very likely the maj-

ALL THE BOONES WERE WANDERERS

(By JOHN BAKELESS, in Christian Science Monitor)

In peaceful Devon, loveliest of the English counties, a family of English Quakers was growing restless as the eighteenth century began. Queen Anne was on the throne; Marlborough was winning renown and cash for himself, and honor for the British arms; it was a wonderful period of England's history. In London, Dean Swift was being witty and extremely caustic... Mr. Pope's poetry was beginning to be greatly admired. But none of these worldly vanities meant much to George Boone, a humble Quaker weaver in the village of Cullompton, near Exeter...

The cautious weaver of Cullompton had heard glowing tales of Pennsylvania. But a man cannot believe all he hears. A man must be sure. Sometime before 1713 his son, George Boone the younger, his daughter Sarah, and another son, Squire Boone, took ship to investigate this new land that promised so well. Squire shipped as cabin boy...

As it turned out, the new land pleased them. Squire and Sarah stayed. Their brother is said to have returned to Devon to report to his father—the elder George Boone still was cautious. If he did so, it was a hasty trip, for he was back in Pennsylvania, marrying an American girl, by May, 1718. Not for four years, however, was the rest of the family ready to leave Devon's peaceful meadows for the wild Pennsylvania country with its thin

The Door Of Knowledge

Many people deeply regret that they had such limited education in their early youth. Some of them feel limited when they meet educated people who are talking about books and modern developments in the world.

Education is indeed a wonderful thing, and those who have had it start out with a decided advantage. The fact that people did not get all the education they need in their youth does not prove that they cannot become intelligent.

The newspaper and magazines give a picture of the world every day and week and month, and those who read these publications thoroughly become well informed on modern life and world events.

So the door of knowledge is always open. Even if the one enters that door rather late, many rewards come to those who do enter it.

PROOF POSITIVE

(Wall Street Journal)

Many people will remember how the celebrated Theodore Hook of an earlier day, deflated the pompous gentlemen of his era by walking up to them and demanding: "Pray, sir, are you anybody of importance?"

A stranger once tried to embarrass the extremely imposing British actor, Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, by repeating these words to him. But Sir Herbert's wit was equal to his imposing appearance.

"I don't think I can be," he rejoined, "or I would hardly be seen talking to you."

Hardship and opposition are the native soil of manhood and self-reliance.

Joyce Shelton doing a fine paint job in "Jimmy" Baker's windows.

"Imagine taking a circus to Ottawa," exclaims The Hamilton Spectator.

Add to similes of the day: "As super-optimistic as the front cover of the seed catalogue."

At long last the new front on Love's grocery has been finished. Looks pretty snappy, too.

Just like Broadway in front of the Lincoln Electric Supply, with an outside radio playing boogie-woogie all day long.

The Independent has a Printer's Devil whose volubility has the Editor backed off the boards. In fact if words were music this kid would be a symphony orchestra, a circus band and record making factory all rolled into one.

The snows are gone, the sun is shining, the street is blocked with baby buggies, beautiful kids and happy, radiant mothers, stores doing tremendous business, tired clerks, but the pay cheque is there, trucks, cars, harassed police officials trying to satisfy everybody, the old street has waked up for a wonderful eight months of business that he ahead. Brother, sister, is it not wonderful to live in GRIMSBY, "The Biggest Little Town in The World," particularly on Main Street?

I understand that several hospitals are being projected at different points in Ontario and that the Ontario Department of Health have advised the "people behind the gun" to pattern their construction and maintenance program after the plan laid down by West Lincoln Memorial hospital, for the first hospital and now for the second one. Guess "Old Sandy" did a pretty fair job. Don't forget that the rebuilding fund of the hospital still needs some of that dough YOU have wrapped up in that moth-ball sock.

A Dutchman, addressing his dog said: "You van only a dog, but I wish I was you. Ven you go mit your bed in you shust turn round drie times and lay down; ven I go mit de bed in I hav to lock up de black, and vind up de clock, and put de cat out, and endrem myself, and my frau vakes up and scolds, den de baby vakes up and cries, and I haf to valk him mit de house round, den maybe, ven I get myself to bed, it is time to get up again. Ven you get up, you shust stretch yourself, dig your neck a leddie, and you vas up. I haf to light de fire, put on de kettle, scrap some mit my life already, and get myself breakfast. You play around all day and haf plenty of fun. I haf to work all day and haf plenty of drubbe. Ven you die you vas dead; ven I die I haf to go to hell yet already."

AND HE DID

A young man, taking over a defunct weekly newspaper, discovered when he went out to solicit advertising that one of the town's leading merchants—Josh Weatherby—didn't believe in newspaper publicity. The storekeeper said he never read the ads in the paper, and didn't believe anyone else did.

"Will you advertise in my paper if I convince you folks do read the ads?" the newspaper man asked.

"Yes," the merchant replied, "but you can't."

The next issue of the paper carried a small line in an obscure corner, reading: "What's Josh Weatherby going to do about it?"

The following day Weatherby burst into the office of the newspaper and demanded relief from the horde of wits and half-wits who had descended upon him to inquire what he was going to do about it. He promised to stand by any explanation the publisher printed.

Accordingly, the next issue carried the announcement: "Weatherby is going to advertise, of course."

A WHIFFENPOOF

After a good deal of research one of our correspondents has unearthed the ancient secret of how to capture the fabulous whiffenpoof, a creature much admired in both song and verse. It was believed for a time the secret had perished when the country of Atlantis sank beneath the ocean. There was one survivor from this disaster, however, but he did the secret carefully. Our obstinate spy located it, though. The following tools are required: (1) A row boat. (2) A 2" x 4" plank. (3) A piece of cheese, any type. (4) A hammer. (5) A nail. (6) A tin of mortar. The 10th is to load these varied articles aboard your row boat and row out into the ocean. Place the bit of cheese on the crest of a passing wave. When the whiffenpoof surfaces to grab it the wave will flow out from beneath it. Slip your plank beneath it and taking nail in one hand, hammer in the other, nail firmly to plank tail of whiffenpoof. Then pour mortar on whiffenpoof. The poor creature will be mortartied to death and you have him. Although the pelt of the whiffenpoof has no known commercial value, stuffed whiffenpoofs were very popular among Atlantean bartenders who hung them over their bars.

HOW SCOTTISH IS IT?

Just how Scottish is the bagpipe? The sheekin bag is imported from Australia. The anes come from Spain and the ivory mouts from Africa. The black wood for the bloopipe and the drones is generally cocowood, from the West Indies. But the main ingredient—the man who makes them—still has to have heather in his hair. There are more bagpipers today in Canada, New Zealand and India than there are in Scotland—but they're all Scottish made.

ONE-PIECE SHIRT-AND-SKIRT

By PRUNELLA WOOD

The Gibson Girl shirtwaist and skirt which floated in a considerable portion of the New Look to the younger girls, takes a new lease on popularity for another season. But if the California designed model, above, is any sign, there is a new improvement with this later look. Skirt and shirt are sewed in one, thus curing the handicap of the uniform idea.

The prettiest girl, in the quaintest of shirts and the swiftest of skirts, doesn't look like much when the two halves of her costume have gaped and squirmed apart. Just dishevelled and amateur.

This one-piece model is made of pastel colored cotton broadcloth, with a bib yoke and cuffs of white eyelet embroidery. The belt is of self fabric.

Strictly Canadian by Claire Wallace

We all have to die and, during life, we all have to face the death of someone else, so let us look to the etiquette called for on occasions of bereavement.

When a death occurs in the family, relatives should be notified immediately by telephone or wire and a classified advertisement inserted in the newspapers stating the time and place of the funeral. (In addition, of course, the newspapers may want a notice for their news columns. This might be prepared by someone with an intimate knowledge of the deceased person's life and achievements). If a private funeral is planned and flowers are not desired, the newspaper announcement should indicate that this is the wish of the bereaved family. Relatives and very intimate friends attend even a private funeral.

Don't be hurt if you are not "invited" to a funeral; the onus is on you to find out when the funeral of a relative or a friend is to take place and go to it without being invited.

In sending flowers to a funeral, they are never addressed to the deceased. Whether forwarding them to the home, funeral parlour or church, they should be addressed "To the funeral of the late Mr. John Doe." Or, they may be sent "To the family of the late Mr. John Doe." The enclosed card—not addressed to anyone—would say: "With sympathy" or "With deepest sympathy" and be signed "Mary and Douglas", if sent by relatives or close friends and "Mary and Douglas X. Smith", if the senders are acquaintances.

Choosing the coffin may be done by a close friend or a male relative outside the immediate family. Armed with the knowledge of how much the bereaved family can pay for a funeral, he can best handle it for them. It is easy for bereaved to go over their heads financially when arranging a funeral; they are not in condition to bargain nor is it desirable for them to do so.

The earliest type of coffin was a tree, cut down and hollowed out to accommodate the body. Sometimes the tree was set adrift on a river or left lying on the ground, other times buried.

The first coffins, as we know them, originated in Egypt. The Egyptians believed the spirit came back to the body periodically, so they buried people in stone compartments and pyramids to preserve the body for the return of the spirit.

The undertaker will advise on the clothes needed to dress the dead. Usually a dark suit is chosen for a man and a favorite, plain dress for a woman.

It is customary to remove any jewelry before the coffin is closed, although some women want to be buried with wedding ring on. Otherwise, it is usual to take it off and let some member of the family have the ring as a keepsake.

It is asked to be a pallbearer—either honorary or active—and in doubt as to the duties, get in touch with the church or funeral director and either will tell you what you need to know. During the funeral service, pallbearers usually sit on the left-hand side of the church or chapel, although this is optional, depending on the wishes of the family. On leaving the chapel to proceed to the hearse, the correct etiquette calls for the clergy to lead (should the lieutenant-governor be present, he may, at his own discretion, precede the clergy). Then come, in order the honorary pallbearers, the active pallbearers—whether they actually carry the coffin or not—the coffin, which may be carried by either the active pallbearers or the members of the funeral director's staff and finally, the members of the family.

It is quite in order for women—particularly members of the family—to be excused from attending the graveside rites. It is customary and correct for men to stand with heads uncovered during the last rites, but, in inclement weather, common sense should prevail.

Often, after the graveside ceremony, members of the immediate family and intimate friends may gather at the family's home. A light tea or meal is correctly served on such occasions.

More on this subject next week.

Dentistry Goes On Wheels

Dental care seeps to some of the most remote hinterlands of Ontario—on wheels! Up-to-date dental equipment, installed in a railway Pullman car, solves the problem of getting oral attention to school children in localities where such service is not available.

The Ontario Department of Health has maintained this service since 1931, in conjunction with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company which transports the dental car along its lines. A distance of 1,109 miles is covered, from Cartier, near the Manitoba border, to Ingleton, near the Ontario border. Each year about 1,200 school children pass through the portals of the mobile clinic to receive dental attention.

This service is free of charge to all school children in these isolated communities. If this scheme was not in effect, the children in districts beyond the contact of a resident dentist would not be able to obtain care for their teeth, even if the financial means were available. To receive oral attention, these school children would have to travel to the nearest town, pay hotel and board bills while there. This would necessitate missing several days of school and also be a drain financially, all of which is decidedly impractical.

A donation of the C.P.R. the former Pullman coach is thoroughly remodelled into a modern dental office, with a furnished apartment for the dentist and his wife. The living quarters include a kitchen,

DENTAL CAR TRAVELS TO ISOLATED OUTPOSTS

School children in remote areas of Northern Ontario are assured of receiving dental treatment even though they are many miles from a regular dentist. Instead, the dentist comes to them. Shown above is the Ontario Department of Health's dental car, a donation of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The dentist and his wife, who acts as his assistant, live aboard the dental car, which has a furnished apartment. To the right is the modern dental clinic, visited yearly by 1,200 school children of every nationality, including Indian.

two bedrooms and a living room. A comfortable waiting room is provided for patients. The dental car has an electrical generator for producing its own power for lighting. Steam heating is supplied by a coal furnace. The renovation of the coach was undertaken by the Rosedale Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire. The Department of Health installed the equipment and takes care of the maintenance, which includes salaries, heating, etc.

The dentist in charge of the car has many problems to face, and must be able to adapt himself to the mode of living of the travelling clinic. There can be no set schedule of hours for his work, which he must perform whenever patients arrive at the car. Dr. L. Mitten is at present the dentist on the car, and his wife, a former dental assistant, serves in that capacity. Both have had previous experience in dealing with children and school work, which is invaluable in handling the young patients which spring from every nationality, including Indian, in the Lake Superior region. It is not uncommon for some of the Indian mothers to walk four or five miles to the car with papooses strapped to their backs.

In its itinerary, the dental car avoids towns and sections where there is a resident dentist. Prior to a visit of the coach to a vicinity, the dentist sends consent cards to the school teachers. These cards are distributed to the parents, who sign them if they desire to have their children come under dental care. Once the car arrives at a district, it remains on a siding until all the school children in the vicinity who present themselves have received attention.

About 95 per cent. of the people live in proximity of the railway lines, and manage to avail themselves of this service for their children. A forerunner of this project was the maintenance of a few itinerant dentists who travelled to remote localities with light trans-portable equipment. The dental car is a great improvement on this former method, as the equipment is of a better type and more complete. Work schedules are efficiently organized, and the problem of board and lodging is solved. The coach can travel the year round and reach areas where there are no highways, whereas a motor vehicle is hampered by lack of roads and winter weather.

The coming of the dental car is always a big event, although it entails for some the normal fear of dentistry. The dentist must be patient in order to gain the children's confidence, as many of them approach the car quaking in their boots. Their curiosity is aroused by the drilling machine, the electric fan and other things they have never seen before, including electric lights, in many cases.

Many letters are received from private individuals by the Department of Health expressing appreciation for the service extended by the dental car, and also for the fact that there is no charge made. Calls are constantly pouring in to the administration office requesting that the dental car visit certain localities. It is impossible to accommodate all the requests which are made. The Dental Division of the Department hopes that in the future more dental cars will be made available to Ontario's isolated communities, but the establishing of the service is necessarily long and detailed.

THE OLD MEANIES

Twelve years ago, 30 single young men of Riverhead, L.I., organized a bachelor club. Object of the members was to remain free from matrimonial ties as long as possible. Twenty of these 30 lovers of liberty are still single. The 10 members who succumbed to feminine persuasion and entered the married state are called "Deserters." The remaining members style themselves "Loyalists." Annually the "Loyalists" entertain the "Deserters" at a dinner for the purpose of "sympathizing" with them. The campaign now being conducted by Long Island bachelorettes, to deprive the Riverhead bachelors of their liberty, is reported stronger and more determined than that of any Leap Year in the organization's history. However, bachelor's club president Joseph V. Kelly, confidently states: "We are fully prepared for all onslaughts and do not expect to lose a member in 1948."

Oh, for the days when it didn't cost a person a fortune to keep up appearances.

THE TROUBLE WITH MEN THE TROUBLE WITH WOMEN

(Condensed from Ladies' Home Journal by Judith Chase Churchill)

Everybody knows that man has a lot of faults, just as woman has, but it takes the opposite sex to spot them and bring them to light. When 16 celebrities were asked what they thought was wrong with the opposite sex, here's what they answered.

The Trouble with Men is . . .
They think that every woman in the world is here in order to listen to their opinions on every subject.

—Aline Bernstein
Most of them are so darn cheerful in the morning and so enthusiastic about breakfast.

—Cornelia Otis Skinner
There just aren't enough of them.

Almost any woman could be happy living in a house with her devoted husband, her amusing small son, her applauding brother and doting father, and perhaps an old beau, who had never married, in the guest room.

—Margaret Lee Runbeck
The solid dullish ones are always there when you need them, while the attractive, difficult type turn up six weeks late, bearing a dozen long-stemmed neuroses as a peace offering.

—Hildegard Dolson
The trouble about men is when they aren't about me.

—Gracie Allen
They don't understand that marriage ought to be a partnership. We don't mind being the junior partner.

we don't want to be boss—but we do want to belong to the firm.

—Jinx Falkenburg
A man's chief fault is his lusty ego; but chip bits off that and what have you left? Man shows up best outside the home, and that's where he should stay most of the time. I couldn't live with him myself, but still I like him. And how I envy him!

—Shirley Selfert
I'm simply crazy about the creatures.

—Dorothy Walworth Brownell
The Trouble with Women is . . .

I wish women would give direct answer. Ask a woman what time it is, and she is likely to reply: "Time I should start dinner." Ask if she wants to ride downtown with you, and she answers, "There're several errands I want to do."

—Donald A. Laird
They call a carburetor a whizbang; a binocular a thingumbob; and radar a what-y-m-call-it. Why can't they ever learn the right names for anything?

—George Brent
They're so inconsistent. They get a fur coat because they're cold and then freeze their feet by wearing tooless and heelless shoes.

—Sammy Kaye
The trouble with women is that they have become too much like men. They work, smoke, drink and swear like men. Some even tell stories like men. In becoming the equals of men, they have sacrificed their superiority as women.

—Henry C. Link
There never seems to be any trouble around a bar until a woman puts that high heel over the brass rail. Somehow women at bars seem to create trouble among men.

—Humphrey Bogart
The trouble with women is that they haven't taken over. Look at the mess the men have made in the world.

—Frank Capra
Women dream for other women, get married because other women quest was ordered, he said, and the body was released to the family immediately.

MISSING MAN

Born in Wellington County, Mr. Philp came to the Beamsville district when five years of age, and was widely known as a successful farmer and cattle trader.

Surviving, besides his wife, the former Hazel Hagar, are two sons and two daughters; David and Donald, at home; Mrs. Lorne Elmer and Mrs. Ashley Elliott, both of Clinton Township; also two sisters, Mrs. F. B. Head, and Miss Lois Philp, both of Copetown.

Funeral was held from the Buck Funeral Home, Beamsville on Tuesday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock, interment being made in Mount Osborne Cemetery.

Provincial police who took part in the search included Corporal William Gilling and Constables R. C. Pettigrew, of Cayuga; E. G. Hope, Grimsby; Frank Cooney, Beamsville; Norman Fach and C. E. Wildfang, of St. Catharines detachment.

GOVERNMENT IS

ized assessment is greatly at variance to the plan outlined by the government.

Members of the town council listened with interest on Thursday evening to Mr. R. Sloan, of the Department of Municipal Affairs, explain the new basis of equalized assessment which his department eventually hopes to have established in all counties throughout Ontario. In the discussion that followed it was clearly shown that a $10,000 house in the northern part of Halton county would not be assessed for as much as one in Burlington, but that the new proposed equalization figures would be more of an equalization of a community rather than the county. While the assessments were now being compiled on the new figures it was not expected they would be used before 1950.

In his opening remarks Mr. Sloan pointed out that the governments for a number of years had desired equalized assessments in all counties, and more so recently because of increased grants and subsidies, based on assessment. In the past there were no set rules laid down for assessors, and with poor salaries paid assessors, in many instances the roll was just copied from year to year. With this in mind the government set about to establish an assessment branch with the purpose of supervising all assessors and bringing into effect an equalized basis of assessing throughout the province, bearing in mind, of course, at all times, locations. The first county assessor was named in 1943 and at the end of 1946 ten had been named. Two more were named in 1947 and it is expected more counties will adopt the plan within the next year. The county assessor's first step was to seek equalization and lay down a manual for the county by which land would be assessed and rates established for various types of buildings. Commercial land was not as valuable as residential land and residential land was not as valuable in Burlington as in the city of Hamilton. The same thing applied to the north and south of Halton county. It had been found that many industries were enjoying low assessments and naturally a rise brought forth resentment. To him, however, the idea of an increase in industrial assessment driving out industries was far fetched. The main consideration of industries, old or new, was source of supply, sales market, labor market and transportation.

Cr. Armstrong enquired if a house valued at $15,000 in Burlington and one at the same figure in Georgetown would be assessed the same and the reply was that it would not. Municipal services, schools and other factors such as transportation and location would enter into the basic figure for assessment. The whole story was to see that one part of the county was not assessed at 20 per cent and another section at 50 per cent, but that some equalization was obtained after all things had been taken into consideration.

Warren Nicholson, of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce, said the Chamber were on record as approving of the scheme of equalized assessment in all of Ontario, but it was strongly felt that the system should go into effect throughout all Ontario at once and not penalize industries by higher taxes than his competitor because one industry happened to be in an area using the new system of assessing.

Mr. Sloan replied that the attitude of the Chamber of Commerce was partially right, but was being considered too seriously. All counties will eventually have to come under the new system.

Ford Rogers, county assessor for Halton, said it was not the intention to penalize any one type of ratepayer. Farming had its ills as well as industry, but assessments could not be expected to take care of either the ills of the farmer or the industrialist. Mr. Rogers said his office was located at Milton and he was ready at any time to be of assistance to the municipality. While the figures were now being compiled throughout the county on the new basis of assessment, which would be much higher, the new system would not go into effect until the whole county was completed. It would probably be used for the 1950 assessment.

Further discussion brought out the fact that the new scheme was equalizing the value of houses in the community and not in the county. Houses located in Roseland would be assessed similar to ones in Burlington, but a consideration of about 10 per cent would be given Roseland homes because of being located a distance from shopping places and also schools. This was the type of factors that entered into the assessing.

LIONS CLUB

that's for sure. There is something new and something old, it contains music, drama, songs, comedy, and it's all rolled into one big revue, it's really a "thrill-ossal" show.

It has the happy facility of packing into its length, songs that will bring back memories, and as for the comedy stunts, even the caste get all tangled up in their own mirth as rehearsals continue.

And as for drama. Well this all hinges on a drama written from a Chinese record some 500 years ago, and is the story of the casting of a bell—a bell ordered by the Emperor, and the tone of which shall ring down through the ages, bringing peace. It is simple, tense and tragic.

We think that you will like this show, it really has great possibilities, and with a brilliant cast of local boys and girls, and men and women, the revue should be a great success.

Keep those two nites open, they are Thursday and Friday, April 15 and 16, and if you are interested in the cast, take a look at one of the posters that are now on display, there is a lot of talent combined for this Lions revue, which we guarantee will provide you with some really fine entertainment.

FREEDOM MEANS DUTY

"Most of us believe in freedom," said John Foster Dulles, Republican adviser to the United States Secretary of State, "but sometimes we forget that freedom and duty always go hand in hand, and that if the free do not accept social responsibility they will not remain free." That is a thought that people, who believe that talking about freedom is all that is necessary to assure it, might do well to keep in mind.

LAMPMAN-LARSON

Congregational Church, Detroit, Michigan, was the scene of a quiet but impressive wedding ceremony on Friday, April 2, when Lily Clair, daughter of Mrs. Blanche Larson, and the late Elmer Larson, of 12354 Santa Rosa Avenue, Detroit, was united in marriage to Garfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Lampman, Lincoln Avenue, Beamsville.

Rev. George Drew officiated at the ceremony, which took place at 5 o'clock, with only a few intimate friends of the couple present. The bride was attended by Miss Bette Arnold of Plymouth, Michigan, and the groom was attended by J. Gordon McGregor, Beamsville.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Beauchamp's, and following this wedding dinner, the couple left for various Canadian and U.S. points. They will reside on Lincoln Avenue, Beamsville.

HEALTH CLINIC

At the health clinic held in the Parish Hall on Tuesday afternoon, Dr. C. Robinson, assistant M.O.H. for Lincoln examined 25 children. 16 infants and 9 pre-school children.

Sixteen of the children were inoculated for diphtheria and whooping cough, five were vaccinated for smallpox and two were given a skin test for tuberculosis.

These clinics are held under the auspices of the Women's Institute, the Mother's Club and the County Health Unit. The women's organizations supply the lay workers. Dr. Robinson is assisted by the County School Nurse.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Mr. Norman Bartlett of Beamsville provided a full evening of profitable enjoyment for a large gathering there last Friday evening when he showed a number of unusually fine Technicolor films.

The first set of films was entitled "From Coast to Coast in Canada" and presented many scenes of great beauty in our own country. The second showed views of the three British Isles and revealed not only the beauty of the scenery there but also made very vivid some of the effect of the German Blitz through which England was forced to suffer during the last war.

The hearty applause of the entire gathering was more expressive of the pleasure that they received from the films than any formal vote of thanks could have been.

BAPTIST Y.P.U.

Monday evening sixteen of the Young Adults of the Baptist church were the guests of the Young Adult Group of the King Street Baptist Church, Hamilton.

The B.Y.P.U. members of the same church were also the invited guests of the senior group and the three groups made a fine large number of young people and young adults.

After a brief devotional and business session carried on by the Hamilton Group and a lively sing song, the Hamilton group presented a humorous play entitled "The Law Diggers."

The work was admirably done by the local cast and although it was distinctly a humorous presentation, there was an excellent moral that was rather suggested than expressed and which perhaps made it more effective.

To conclude the evening the Hamilton group served dainty but very bountiful refreshments thus bringing to a happy close a very profitable and successful evening.

Mrs. H. G. Harper, Vice-president, thanked the speaker on behalf of the W.A. for her interesting talk.

The ladies of the Beach Circle were in attendance as guests.

The regular meeting followed, and many letters of thanks for bowers sent at Easter to the sick and shut-ins were read.

MAY ORGANIZE JUNIOR GRAPE GROWERS

Plans for the possible establishment of a Junior Grape Growers' Organization in the Niagara Peninsula were discussed Friday afternoon at a meeting held in the St. Catharines Chamber of Commerce offices.

Attending the meeting were officials of the St. Catharines Chamber of Commerce and the Department of Agriculture as well as representatives of the Grape Growers' Association.

The meeting was in agreement on the desirability of forming an association of this type as a means of encouraging greater production and higher quality grape products, through the education and encouragement of junior fruit farmers.

It was decided that various organizations would consult with their directorates and that a meeting would be held at a later date, at which more concrete plans will be formed.

LEGION JOTTINGS
WEST LINCOLN BRANCH, No. 127

The salvage collection was quite a success, a fine day and a good haul. While the returns are not all in by press time, it would appear that the Hospital will benefit considerably through the Legion drive.

Our thanks are due to the Niagara Packers, Grimsby Wines, Cecil Hill, Allied Fruits, Peninsula Lumber, George Douglas, Canadian Wood Products, J. Dick and A. R. Lipsitt, for their great assistance in the loaning of trucks, which made the drive a success.

Arrangements are now in hand for a Bridge and Euchre to be held at the Masonic Hall on Thursday, April 29th. Light refreshments will be served.

There will be a convention of the branches of District "B" in Welland on Sunday, April 11th. Branch representatives have been asked to attend and report at the next general meeting.

The Executive Committee will meet at the Legion Club on Wednesday, April 14.

A FINE PERFORMANCE BY PLAYERS' GUILD

Grimsby Players' Guild in their third offering of the season on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week drew a representative audience of townspeople and sent them home in a happy mood. The play, Out of the Frying Pan, was directed by Miss Molly Lucas. It was straight comedy of the somewhat obvious type, but it revealed some genuinely comical situations and the lines were pointed and only occasionally mawkish. The whole cast is to be commended for the admirable simplicity with which they interpreted a theme of affectation would have spoiled. They were content to be natural and so gave the desired impression of a group of eager youngsters reacting to an assortment of contretemps in a human and lovable way. The roles had been wisely assigned and the ingenious device of black out scene changing kept the play moving briskly.

The situation is that a group of young people who are would-be actors live in an apartment together on the proverbial shoestring. Here amid merriment and despair, they rehearse doggedly the thriller mystery (with a dash of the occult) that has been successfully produced by the gentlemen occupying the apartment below, whom they finally inveigle, not without hindrances, into seeing their performance of his play. They dream of a grand gesture in which he engages them to go on tour, but the devil plagues them with all manner of mishaps in the very opening scene. The incapacity of the worried Miss Foster to be a docile corpse; the delicious naivete of the ingenious landlady on her hopeful excursions into the high emotional moments of the play in search of arrears of rent; the impromptu arrival of two policemen (one ponderous, the other bloodthirsty) to investigate the scream, and the dialogue at cross purposes that results, give rise to some rollicking comedy. Highly enjoyable also to the audience was the obsession of the great producer with the gourmet's dish which he had left simmering on his stove while the young actors boiled over with histrionic ambitions beneath his very nose.

If there were occasional tame moments in Out of the Frying Pan, one felt they were due to thin patches in the fabric of the plot rather than faulty performance, and they were never sustained. All in all it was a good evening's entertainment.

Apart from a readiness to patronize an effort that will augment the fund for rebuilding the hospital, it would seem from much comment overheard that Grimsby people are becoming aware of the value of such a working group as the Players' Guild to the community. We hope this is so and that when in the natural process of development they turn to other fields than comedy, exploring the riches of dramatic art in all its phases, they will be assured of the same sympathetic responsiveness in their audience that has been an impetus to their remarkable progress in the short time since their organizing.

Many a man sleeps through the entire night, while in other homes there is a baby.

SPORTOLOGY

(By Bones Livingston, Sportologist)

WHAT BECOMES OF THEM?—In the grand mulligan stew of rules and regulations as they exist in the "book of knowledge" of the O.H.A. I can find no place where provision is made for a young lad to play hockey once he has left Junior "B" ranks, providing he is not good enough to make the grade in Senior "A", which group run things to suit themselves. In fact according to the hair-brained regulations as now constituted the O.H.A. positively prohibits a young lad to go any farther in hockey unless he chooses to give up his job, his home and everything else and take up permanent residence in some other town.

Here is a case in point. "Pinky" Lewis of Hamilton has spent many years and thousands of hours developing young kids into junior hockey players. This year his Aerovox team have been a battling aggregation all season and played in the finals of the Junior "B". There are at least four if not five or six of those lads who, owing to age limit, are done in junior ranks this season. Under present regulations where are those boys going to go and play hockey next winter if they are unable to make a place on a Senior "A" outfit? No place. In other words they have reached the end of the road in their hockey career, at the age of 20 years, unless they wish to give up good jobs, leave their comfortable homes, their friends and all else and move to a strange town and make permanent residence. They are not allowed to play with the Peach Kings, Milton or any other nearby town. Then where are they going? As it stands now they have just run down a dead-end street.

Who can tell how good any or all of those lads will be two, three or four years hence if they are allowed to go on and play hockey? Some of the greatest race horses of all time, both runners and harness horses, never amounted to a tinker's hoot until they were five, six and seven years old. The same applies to hockey players. There have been plenty of puck chasers who never made the big time until they were 25 and they were whizzes at that.

The Hamilton boys are not an isolated case. The Province of Ontario is full of kids coming out of Junior "B", very few of whom will be able to click in Senior "A". Then where are they going? Are they going to be compelled to quit hockey for ever, or else leave everything behind them and move to another town? Under the nutty regulations they will have to do one thing or the other.

In the meantime artificial rinks are being built and being projected. How are the already established arenas, the new arenas and the projected arenas going to operate out of the red, red, red, if the hockey clubs are not able to place good strong teams on the ice in those respective towns, yet they will not be able to do so under the present regulations, if they stay affiliated with the O.H.A. and at one and the same time the province is full of young, promising material that is being kept out of hockey. Nice situation.

Therefore is it any wonder that the agitation is under way for the formation of a new Senior "B" group comprised of Port Erie, Port Colborne, Welland, St. Catharines, Grimsby, Brantford, Waterloo, Georgetown, Milton (artificial ice next winter) that will operate absolutely as the Junior "A" and Senior "A" groups are operating whether the O.H.A. likes it or not. This will give dozens of smart young players a chance to continue on in hockey and keep the ice palaces out of the red ink barrel.

It is along way until next November but believe you me there will be plenty of things happen between now and then with regard to this present miserable hockey set-up.

Where are all the boys in Toronto going to play unless they make the Marlboros or the Q. & L. Senior "B"? And why a city the size of Toronto in Senior "B" to compete with small cities and towns? Where are the St. Kitts Juniors going to play, if not allowed to play for Port Dalhousie, Welland or Grimsby?

The rules as they exist today say that a town like Grimsby—2000 people—must use a team with eight players from the municipality. If there are eight players in Grimsby, there must be hundreds denied the privilege of playing hockey simply because the rules state that a town cannot draw players from a city.

NEAR THE END OF THE TRAIL—The schedule of the MEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE is just about all over except the shouting and GAS RAHN and his GAS HOUSE gang did not even get into semi-final play for the INGLEHART AND GLEDHILL trophy. Semi-finals were played last week with the ROCKETS putting the MONARCHS out of the picture and PIN TWISTERS taking three out of five games from the BOULEVARD. LIMEY LYMBURNER was high game man with 358 and high score for five games with 1173. ROCKETS and PIN TWISTERS now come together in the finals which will be four out of seven games. The first four games will be played tomorrow night starting at 7.30 and if more games are necessary they will be played on Tuesday night next. The semi-final games last Friday were as follows:

Monarchs	1076	1157	884	992	921-2
Rockets	990	1050	1037	1104	1031-3
Pin Twisters	918	1031	1013	1013	882-3
Boulevard	1063	1049	777	937	830-2

APRIL SHOWERS AND MAY FLOWERS—SARNIA SAILORS did not have too difficult a time taking WATERLOO KENTS in the Senior "B" finals. PEACH KINGS would not have had any trouble either. Too bad they met Sarnia first. . . . MARKHAM and GEORGETOWN are staging a hectic series. It is the best four out of seven games. To date there is only a flip of a coin for a choice between the two outfits. . . . LITTLE WHIZZER seems to have lost his cunning on the alleys. He was low man on his team the other night. . . . BOBBY ROBERTSON sure trundled three for nice game for the IRON DUKES. 228-363-126 for a triple 832. . . . After BILL FISHER rolled the wonderful score of 121 for the UNDERWRITERS someone must have given him the needle for he came right back with a 323 which is going some for Bill. . . . It will soon be all over for the league bowling. MEN'S LEAGUE are now going into the finals and the PEACH QUEENS will soon be into their playdowns. . . . That FIREMEN outfit should take a shot of their own chemical in 15 games the highest score was 195 and the high man on the team was only 539. . . . The Civic Improvement Committee under the guidance of Earl J. Marsh are to be congratulated upon their efforts to provide seating accommodation for the spectators who attend the ball games at the public school grounds. Besides Mr. Marsh the members of the committee are Bob Johnson, Mel Johnson, Archie Alton, D. E. Anderson, Bill Hewson, Stan Globe and Erwin Phelps. . . . PEACH QUEEN captains held a meeting on Tuesday night and decided that they would hold their annual banquet at the Pines Hotel in Stony Creek on Tuesday night, May 4th. QUEENS league are going into their playoffs immediately. They have had a great season. What surprised me about the meeting on Tuesday night was that everything was so quiet. There was not a hair pulled. There was not a nose twitched. The LOVELY QUEENS just acted like QUEENS. tention. . . . REKALL STIMERS is one from the North. For a while I did not think that he could make the snowshoe trail, but he did. You know what I like best about STIMERS, you might be surprised, but it is MA STIMERS. Nuff Sed. Good-re, folks.

SOME SMART PEOPLE will make Real Money this year!

Yes — some smart people are going to make real money from poultry this year.

Realizing that there is likely to be a sharp shortage of both eggs and market poultry, in face of high consumer demand and income, they are filling up to capacity with fast-growing

Bray Chicks. When their neighbors are wishing that they had eggs and birds to sell, they will be CASH-ING!

Be one of the "lucky" ones — the smart ones. Order your Bray Chicks right away. Prompt shipment . . . cockerels, 90% pullets, or non-sexed. Some started chicks, too.

NOTICE

TO ALL GROWERS OF BEETS, CARROTS, CABBAGE and PUMPKINS FOR PROCESSING IN ONTARIO

The Ontario Farm Products Marketing Board has received a request from growers of Beets, Carrots, Cabbage and Pumpkins that the provisions of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Marketing-for-Processing Scheme be amended to include these additional crops.

A mail vote by ballot of the growers primarily concerned has been arranged, so that the Board may determine if the growers making this request are fairly representative of all growers marketing these crops for processing.

A Ballot, with return envelope, has been sent to all growers who sold beets, carrots, cabbage and pumpkins for processing in 1947.

YOU ARE URGENTLY REQUESTED TO MARK YOUR BALLOTS FOR OR AGAINST THE SCHEME AND TO MAIL THEM AT ONCE IN THE ENVELOPE PROVIDED FOR THE PURPOSE.

ARE YOU GETTING THE TAX DEDUCTIONS YOU ARE ENTITLED TO?

The Farm Account Book and Income Tax Guide shows you how!

How much can you deduct for depreciation on your tractor? Your automobile? A shed? What expenses can you deduct? There are 75 articles in common farm use plus a wide variety of deductible expenses for which depreciation can be charged—all listed in the new Farm Account Book. These legal deductions from your income are a big question at Income Tax Time and the answers to them and to dozens of other questions are in this new Farm Account Book.

A Record of Your Transactions and a Guide to Your Income Tax Return

WHAT IT DOES—Keeps a clean record, helps you budget—and shows you whether you have made or lost money on your operations. Shows you, too, what your best lines are and where you may be farming at a loss. Saves you hours of time from book keeping. First ten pages are for your receipts—from sales of crops, seeds, livestock, poultry, dairy products and all other produce. Then come twelve pages of all farm expenses—you are reminded of items you might otherwise forget. Establish a basic herd, apply for the three-year-average plan, calculate your depreciation item by item. These are money-savers for every farmer. They're all in the new Farm Account Book.

DEDUCTIONS—Every farmer is entitled to deductions and he is expected by the department to take full advantage of his rights. The Farm Account Book tells you about many items in easy question-and-answer form. For instance—"What can I claim as expenses for repairs?" The answer is "any expense in working order can be claimed." Altogether there are answers to over 60 questions. No one is required to pay more than his fair share of tax. Comments from Letters on the New Farm Account Book and Income Tax Guide: "A long awaited step for the benefit and progress of our Canadian farmers." . . . "Takes the kinks out of keeping farm records." . . . "Pleased to recommend this Account Book for farm people." . . . "Record keeping in its simplest form—a real help." . . . "Something we have been needing for a long time."

WHAT ONE MAN HAS DONE WITH A DREAM, A MILLION DOLLARS

A LOT OF LEAVEN IN A LITTLE LOAF

 by J. P. McEvoy, in The Reader's Digest)

"Big Z" Zermurray came from Bessarabia in 1889, an immigrant boy of 11, and ran a few overripe bananas into the 200-million-dollar
 United Fruit Company empire.

Five years ago Zermurray asked Dr. Wilson Popenoe, veteran plant explorer, how much it would cost to launch a school to educate boys for agricultural leadership in Latin America. Popenoe said, "Half a million dollars." "Okay," said Ze-murray. "But I could do better with $750,000," said Popenoe, who believes in plucking the fruit when it's ripe. "It's yours," said Zermurray, and added, "If you need more,
 come back for it."

Popenoe came back several times, but meanwhile he built and equipped cut-stone study halls, labs and dormitories in the hills 20 miles out of Tegucigalpa, Honduras. Already he has harvested 20 crops of graduates after three years of intensive schooling. Sixty students were graduated in March, 1946, 40 more in March 1947, and there are 160 boys in the school today.

Popenoe started his horticultural experiments while still in high school. Halfway through Pomona College he quit because he was "tired of reading about plants and wanted to grow them." His father sent him and his brother Paul (now famous for his Institute of Family Relations, in Los Angeles) on a plant-hunting trip around the world principally to find varieties of dates that would do well in southern California. This was Popenoe's first big success. Next, he explored Guatemala and Mexico for wild-avocadoes.
 Today a large percentage of all California avocadoes derive from Popenoe's finds. For ten years he roved the world for the U.S. Department of Agriculture as one of its top plant hunters.

Popenoe warned the United Fruit Company 20 years ago: "You have all your eggs in one banana crate.
 Here you can raise anything that will grow in the tropics. Let's set up an experimental station and develop new crops." The result was the Lantana Tropical Gardens—a fairland valley on the Atlantic Coast of Honduras, where Popenoe introduced practically every tropical plant that grows and developed a number of new crops. He recruited student assistants from all over Latin America, the United States and Europe, and evolved a unique educational plant—a cross between an experimental station and a seedbed of tropical tutoring. This was the forerunner of the school he is operating today.

The new school is on an ideal site, with good soil, plenty of water, and the widest possible range for growing crops at various altitudes. Popenoe congratulated himself on his find. "Later," he said,
 "I learned I had only rediscovered a prize ranch of the old Franciscan missionaries, who had farmed it for 200 years."

He has laid out 3000 acres of sugar, coffee, rubber, quinine, teak, mahogany, and exotic fruits such as papaya, guava, litchi, mango, cherimoya, and durian, one of the most delectable fruits in the world and also the most offensively odoriferous.

Popenoe has a green thumb for boys as well as buds. The students come from almost every country in Central and South America—from villages, farms, cities, backwoods, lush coastal lowlands, rugged mountain regions—a cross section economically and socially. "Our boys are neither all rich nor all poor," says Popenoe, "but they are all anxious to learn and willing to work."

It costs United Fruit a thousand dollars a year to feed, clothe and educate each boy. It costs the boys nothing except their fare to the school if they have it. If they haven't, that's paid, too.

Candidates are screened ruthlessly.
 "We are not looking just for farmers, but for leaders—men who will carry to their own communities the gospel of better farming and higher living and educational standards," Popenoe explains.

This year there are already 100 applications from El Salvador, for the six openings which make El Salvador's quota—an indication of how hard it is for the boys to get in, and how desperately schools of this kind are needed.

"This pressure has solved the discipline problem. If a lad doesn't toe the mark, he is sent home. A notice on the bulletin board explains why he left and reminds the rest that there are other boys waiting for every desk and every bed.

There are no credits, no degrees.
 Each scholarship is for one year only—but the boys are kept three full years if they do their part. Popenoe's teaching is simple and direct. "Here is the classic text on grafting," and he holds a book up to the class. "It shows 125 different methods, but all you need to learn is five—and now we will go out and learn them." Then he takes them out in the field and says,
 "Watch me. This is how you slice off buds," and he slices one after another with effortless rhythm.

 Then the student tries it. He hacks and gouges and often gives up, discouraged. "Don't give up," says Popenoe. "After you have sliced a thousand buds, you will find you can do it smoothly."

The boys are up at 5 a.m. and out in the fields by 6.30, where they work with the faculty for five hours. Each student takes care of fruit trees, works in the nurseries, must do practical home and commercial gardening.

"One lesson we learned," says Popenoe, "is that you can't force people to change their eating habits. At first we put all the fresh vegetables, fruits and dairy products on the table—and the boys just let them stay there. So we went at it differently."

"In the first year the boys work in the gardens all morning, and growing lads get hungry. So pretty soon they begin to nibble on carrots and onions, and radishes and tomatoes, and before long they find themselves eating every kind of vegetable. The second year they work in the orchards and nurseries, and they soon learn to eat all the fruits. In the dairies they learn to drink fresh milk and buttermilk and eat cheese."

A three-year study of the nutrition values of the native food plants in Middle America is under way. Food plants long neglected and forgotten are being rediscovered.
 "For example," says Zermurray,
 "they have found in Mexico a weed called malva, which contains every element needed by the human body. The Aztecs ate it in the old days, but most of their descendants never heard of it. It is one of many native food plants which we hope to bring back."

The demand for the school's graduates is enormous. Half the first class were offered jobs as demonstrators and salesmen of agricultural machinery. But this was discouraged; the purpose of the school is to train boys to carry on the good work in their home communities. For the same reason, graduates are not permitted to take banana jobs with the United Fruit Company. Half a dozen of the first class were retained as teachers in the school, several others went into government service as agricultural extension workers. The majority went home to their own communities.

"Every year we plan to take in about 60 boys and graduate about 50," Popenoe explains. "That wouldn't sound like much of a project up North—but when you send one well-trained boy into a small country like Honduras or Guatemala, it is a lot of leaven in a little loaf."

Paul Revere rode a horse. If he lived nowadays he would probably use a jeep.

MANY TONS OF ROCK
deposited behind this outer barrier, thus creating a "nature made" beach, is the basis of the Mayor's plan.

At any rate the pump house which is an investment has been safe from the ravages of the driving waves, and it would now appear that citizens, industrial firms, the fire department and others will have water when they need it. It is ironic that considerable expense has been incurred holding back the lake, from which comes the water the town requires to exist.

WORK IS WELL
tural Gas Company have an auxiliary line into the site, but this source will not be utilized unless the digestion tank should become empty.

The primary tank is nearing completion, and we learned that eighty yards of concrete and five tons of steel have been used in its construction.

Following completion of all four units, officials of Ontario Construction said that considerable time would be spent in altering much of the old plant. It is not known just when the whole project will be completed and in operation.

EDITOR'S DESK
very good wood worker makes him a very versatile gent.

At any rate his derision of the best top paper clip container reached a climax, when he stated that he would turn out a decent-looking container for our paper clips, and on Wednesday afternoon he was bounced with the finished product, and it is really something.

And so there it rests, making all else look shabby, while the whole staff now refuses to get paper clips from anywhere else but from this rich looking walnut container. Yes, our editorial den has taken on the "new look."

stand idea got its start, and was unanimously agreed upon by the Club at recent meetings.

For a time the site was undecided, with the High School grounds being a contender, however, it was finally decided at a recent meeting of the Committee, to build on the Public School property, and at the same meeting, the final selection of a design was made, from a series of designs submitted by Col. G. R. Chetwynd.

The wooden structure will be built on concrete footings, and will be constructed in such a way that enlargement will be possible if the need should arise for a larger stand.

The structure will be divided into three sections, with a main aisle along the front, and two aisles dividing the seats. Mr. Marsh said that it will be soundly constructed, and would be a definite asset to the citizens of the area.

Robert Bourne and Russell Terry have been selected by the Board of Education to work with the Civic Improvement Committee on the construction and the future operation of the grandstand.

With construction to commence almost immediately, those people who have hesitated about standing along the base-paths to watch a ball game, should turn out in much larger numbers now that a very fine grandstand will be available. Again the Lions have paved the way for adding something to the town, and again their motto of service to the community has proved itself.

The Independent congratulates the Lions, and the Civic Improvement Committee for their fine selection of an item that is without a doubt a great step toward civic improvement.

Things weren't as complicated in the old days. A fellow could go to sleep without having to take sleeping powders.

WAS ROMANTIC
thousand people; wears a tidy aspect, and is very much of a watering place. The medicinal springs, which are of recent discovery, are becoming celebrated, and people have visited them the present season from all parts of the United States and British Provinces. The number of strangers was so large, for two or three months, that they could not all be accommodated at the Stephenson House, which is a spacious structure, built expressly for health and pleasure seekers. It is kept in the best style. Another mammoth hotel, built by a joint stock company, consisting of several enterprising citizens of the place, is to be opened in the spring; and hence next summer there will be abundant accommodations for all who will be likely to visit the Springs.

Halted a few hours, in the middle of the day, at Grimsby, a romantic little village, half way between St. Catharines and Hamilton. All the trains on the Great Western Railway halt there for water—the strongest beverage which the engine requires. What a pity that rational beings cannot be satisfied with the same kind. But while the engine stops to water, people stop to brandy. This is more generally the case here at Hamilton where the cars make a longer halt, and people eat as well as drink. One would suppose by the vast array of bottles, dark and ominous looking, in the eastern apartment of the eating house, that man's chief end, while travelling through the world by steam, is to "steam."

Hamilton has become a large and beautiful city, containing eighteen to twenty thousand inhabitants. It has been lighted by gas for three or four years, and by night or by day is a cheerful-looking town. It has two large reading rooms to which the stranger can readily gain access, and where he will find an abundance of Provincial, European and American newspapers and periodicals. And how acceptable to a traveller, when sojourning in a town remote from his home, to have access to the journals of his own city or district: it is next to meeting a friend, with the latest news in his head.

November 3d.—Have reached Oshawa, by steamer from Hamilton, via Toronto; and propose here to spend the Sabbath. Came to Toronto in the steamer America, and to this place in the Maple Leaf. The facilities for travelling along the northern shore of Lake Ontario are abundant and comfortable. The Canada and America—two new first-class steamers, running in connection with the Great Western Railway—leave Hamilton every evening for Oswego, touching at Toronto. The Maple Leaf and Highlander form a daily line between Hamilton and Rochester, touching at Whitby, Oshawa, Darlington, Bond Head, Port Hope, Cobourg and Colborne; and the Magnet, Passport and Arabian, constitute a daily line to Kingston, stopping at Darlington, Port Hope and Cobourg. An apology for a stage coach passes through the towns skirting the lake shore, but few ride in it save such as wish to do penance for their sins.

Latterly the village of Oshawa has exhibited an upward tendency, its inhabitants being on the increase, and numbering seventeen hundred. One of the largest cabinet wire manufacturers in the Province is located here, the proprietors being Messrs. T. Fuller & Co. They employ between forty and fifty mechanics, and turn out an immense amount of very excellent work. Their establishment is warmed throughout by steam. Mr. R. Wellington also carries on the same business, employing ten workmen. He is gradually enlarging his business. The Oshawa Manufacturing Company went into operation last year, having a capital of thirty thousand dollars. Its buildings and machinery cost twenty thousand. The steam engine has sixty horse power and is a superb piece of machinery. The buildings, which are very spacious, are also warmed by steam. Forty men find constant employment there. The principal articles manufactured are feed cutters, hay rakes, mowing and reaping machines, fanning mills, forks and agricultural implements generally. There are also axe manufacturers and mechanic shops of every kind in the village.

Ho, hum! So many people enjoy telling you about kicking in to their secret charities.

FINE BUSINESSMAN
While work there, he set himself up in business here as an insurance broker.

However, his business career was interrupted in 1915, when he joined the 16th Battalion at Toronto, and went overseas with the C.E.F. and saw considerable action with the 20th Battalion in France. His army record was as brilliant as his later business life, for he was promoted to the rank of Captain, and was awarded the Military Cross.

Coming back to Grimsby after the hostilities had ceased, he led an active life in various organizations, and was known as a seemingly untiring worker in any movement to which he was associated with.

He was a past Warden of St. Andrew's Church, and was a charter member of the Grimsby Lions Club, with which he served faithfully, and with always the thought of improvement for the current problems, with no thought of himself.

And the West Lincoln Branch of the Canadian Legion will mourn his loss, for at all times did the deceased faithfully fulfill the duties with his comrades.

And only one night before his death, executive of the West Lincoln Memorial Hospital paid tribute to the deceased by placing his name on the board of directors, he having served the hospital since its inception. His crusading for the first hospital earned for him this token of appreciation.

Wm. Ralph Boehm leaves to mourn his passing, his widow the former Anna Medland, one daughter Barbara Anna, and one son "Pat." Also a brother A. F. Boehm, and a sister Mrs. H. C. Chant, both of Toronto.

Quiet St. Andrew's was filled to overflowing on Saturday afternoon, when Rev. E. A. Brooks conducted final rites for the man whose many friends and associates came to pay their last respects. Floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Interment was made in the family plot at St. Andrew's.

Honorary pallbearers were: Messrs. J. R. Boehm, H. C. Chant, J. C. Hodge, Hiles-Templin, Lawson Hargreaves, A. R. Globe.

Active pallbearers were: Donald Campbell, Robert Jackson, Llewellyn Smith, H. R. Dickson, James Walker, P. V. Smith.

SPRING CLEANING

There's a madness strikes our way. For a month it holds full sway. And there is Old Nick to pay— When they start spring cleaning.

Windows are thrown open wide, (Never mind how cold outside) Wax and woodwork must be dried— During the spring cleaning.

Electric gadgets buzz and roar, Polishers drone on the floor— Guess I'd move and live next door— But they, too, are cleaning.

Every room is all upset. "No, that floor is not dry yet." "Mind that paint, it is still wet!" "Pot to this damned cleaning!"

Cannot find my shoes or socks, Ties or slippers or tool box, Or the keys to any locks, All the fault of cleaning!

Mops and dusters everywhere, Then I slip on fresh waxed stair, Sit down where there was a chair— Dash the wretched cleaning!

I've a headache, aching back, All the torture of the rack— H— Itself does nothing lack If they do spring cleaning.

The man of distinction nowadays is the one who can afford to sport gravy on his tie.

This will also be recalled as an era when you were lucky if it didn't take two hours to get served during the lunch hour.

LINCOLN HEALTH UNIT VERY COSTLY OUTFIT

(Excerpt from council meeting report in The Beamsville Express)

The opinion that Beamsville and the remainder of West Lincoln were not receiving much benefit from the 55 cents per head the Lincoln Health Unit is costing, was voiced by all members of Council. A large part of the Unit's funds were being spent in fancy offices and overhead that was of no benefit to the county. Councilors scoffed at a recent set of instructions sent out by the Unit to dairy farmers, one councillor remarking that if the farmers followed the letter of the instructions, cows would have no time to eat. The Reeve told Council that the County was getting "fed up" with the Unit and he thought something would have to be done about it soon. Lincoln was paying more for health services than any other county in Ontario, he said.

Stuff Round Town

By GORD MCGREGOR

Ralph Humphries of the Beamsville Theatre announced late Tuesday night that a total of three hundred and even bucks had been realized for the West Lincoln Hospital fund, as a result of the Beamsville two night showing of Louise. Although this figure is not as high as was originally anticipated, we congratulate the Beamsville for their idea, which may catch on and result in other organizations doing their best for W.L.M.H.

While we're at it, we again toss orchids at the Grimsby Players' Guild, who are really stepping out, and in two successive shows have brought a lot of green stuff into the coffers of the hospital.

The Guild's "Out of the Frying Pan" drew fairly good audiences, and those that attended are still wearing smiles as a result of the slapstick comedy that the local guy and gals dished out. Here's to the Guild, and may they continue to function successfully for many years.

Story of the week concerns a Beamsville service club, which purchased cotton hockey sweaters for a hockey team known as the Thirty Club. Now efforts are being made to get the sweaters back from the boys who gave their all during the winter, with their only reward to date being the sweater. We would love to have a picture of the five men confronting a fourteen year old jay, who remained undaunted and kept his sweater. Narrow, narrow runs the stream.

The kids had nice weather while on Easter vacation, and daily groups of ardent fishermen roamed the banks of the "40". We regret making a deal with Cliff Schwab and Allan Baisley, who were supposed to net us six suckers. Returning to The Independent a couple of hours later, the boys handed us seven three inch chubs. "We're fish ain't they," replied the two brothers. "It was a nice day. We paid. Sucker."

Sarnia Sailors capped the Senior "B" title, defeating Waterloo Kents three straight. Markham, in the meantime appear to be robbed of another championship, as Georgetown need but one more win to clinch the Intermediate "A" crown.

There's a story behind Club 13's April Showers Dance scheduled for April 16th. Seems as how every dance they have had it has rained, so the boys figure that the unique titled April Showers might be appropriate for this frolic.

Get no talk about the peach crop being ruined. This is truly a record.

LIONS ENTERTAIN THE YOUNGER GENERATION

Peggy O'Neill's Oak Room, need for its quiet, sophisticated atmosphere, peaked timidly from behind oak pillars on Tuesday night, as some one hundred young Cubs made their grand entrance on the arms of their Lion fathers, who for the most part wondered just how they were going to make out with Junior without the assistance of the Mamas.

The occasion was the annual Lions father, son and daughter nite, and was a very gay success, with the kids holding the spotlight during the proceedings, and after the initial festivities, the fathers took on proud looks as their charges became accustomed to the setting, and acted like the wonderful kids they are.

Little girls strolled around in their spring finery, with hair do's that reminded one that mothers had had a hand in the affair. And the boys all decked up in their Sunday best, acting like the young gentlemen they are, and, of course, making Pop feel like a million bucks.

Yes, it was a great evening for the kids and fathers alike, and truthfully we could not ascertain just who enjoyed themselves the most.

Early in the evening District Deputy Governor P. V. Smith, announced the annual zone meeting, which will be held in the Club Hecley, St. Catharines, on April 2. The Grimsby Club are hosts this year, and have lined up a fine program for the affair. Fifteen Clubs will be present to hear the noted Canadian commentator Wilson Woodside, who will speak following the banquet at seven o'clock. Previous to the banquet a Zone Advisory meeting will be held at 5 o'clock.

Another announcement of interest is the district oratory contest takes place in Kitchener, Simco, Oakville and Niagara Falls areas. This is carded for the Village Inn on April 23 at seven o'clock, and will be a highlight of the Lion year. Four girls and four boys will be speaking, and if past oratorical contests are any criterion, then this should be a really interesting night.

Chairman of the Boys' and Girls' Committee, Lion Bob Bourne gave a brief summary of the work done by this committee, and spoke highly of the Lion members who are doing such a fine job in various phases of this work. Included in this group are men like Lion Wilson Nelles, the man most responsible for the success of the Lions Midget Hockey League. Col. G. R. Gwynn, Group Captain H. R. Davis, Mel Johnson, Cecil Bell, Don Marshall on whose shoulders rest the Boy Scout problems in this area. The fact that scouting is thriving here as never before is a tribute to their efforts.

Participating in the program were Miss Ann Terry, whose piano interpretations of two of the better known semi-classics were highly appreciated by the audience. The talented Baisley boys, Jackie and Allan, also entertained, as did Bobby Hillier, whose tenacity got him through a slightly changed version of Zip Pi De Do Dah (literal translation).

Don Mogg, G.H.S. student, gave a brief but impressive account of the recent trip to New York taken by several Grimsby students. Don split his admiration between the chorus girls (Rockettes) and Radio City.

The freckle contest was an interesting experiment, with little Bruce Baker and Judy Baxter coming off with top honours. Our sympathy was with the judges, whose task was not an easy one.

The musical gem of the evening, however, was the quartet made up of Lions—Millyard, Mitchell, Marshall and Terry. Their voices are perhaps not blended as well as some quartettes we have heard, but what they lacked in harmony, the accompanist Lion Ken Baxter made up for. We think it was a very fine piano arrangement, and that that Lion Baxter should seriously consider arranging the number for third violin, mouthorgan, fe and bagpipe. However, the effort was about the same with the quartet singing.

Lions Mitchell and Millyard efforts at dressing dolls really got the kids going, and with a running commentary by Lion Bill Lewson, Millyard won by a quick change.

To climax the evening the Lions brought down from Hamilton the well known magician Wm. "Scotty" Lang, who along with his wife and son Roger, performed a series of tricks that were most appropriate for his youthful audience—not that the fathers did not get a kick out of his feats of magic, too.

Last March, 27 permits were issued at $92,745. The sum of $194,355 has been received for permits this year which is lower than the amount for the same period last year when $245,870 was received.

Fred Gayowski of Grimsby Beach, has purchased the Anderson apartments and property on Main east from Walter Pridde.

SALVAGE COLLECTION WAS GREAT SUCCESS

The Legion's spring salvage collection was a highly successful venture, and most residents took advantage of the drive to clean up homes and properties of papers, bottles and metal wastes of various descriptions.

The net proceeds of the salvage drive will be turned over to the West Lincoln Hospital Building Fund, however, it is impossible at this time to give even an approximate estimate of the monies realized from the collection.

Weather conditions were most favorable for the not entirely pleasant task, and as per usual the Legion called on some of the huskier high school students for valuable assistance.

NEW SIGN SERVICE

Residents of Grimsby and the surrounding districts will be pleased to hear of the opening of the Lincoln Sign Service, which will be located at No. 5 Mountain St.

With years of experience in all lines of painting, the almost extinct art of expert sign painting and truck lettering is a specialty with Lincoln Signs.

Trucks and autos, too, are expertly painted here, and one thing we like about the advertising, seen elsewhere in this issue, is the fact that all work is guaranteed, which is novel in this line of work.

The Independent wishes every success to Lincoln Signs, and trust that the people of the area will think of Lincoln Sign Service when they think of painting.
